ANNEX A – Terms of reference

1. Background information

In light of the universal transformative changes called for by the 2030 Agenda, and UNICEF Universal Mandate in support of Child Rights, better evaluation data and insights into what is working and what isn't working is becoming increasingly important for sustainable development.

UNICEF has partnered with the UNSSC to undertake a learning programme to transform UNICEF evaluation function into one where staff and partners work together as a vibrant evaluation community: one that systematically provides credible and reliable information in support of promoting the child rights agenda with national partners; and that delivers problem-solving options for use by policy makers and managers.

It is expected that the Evaluation Learning Programme will contribute to a stronger evaluation workforce that is better able and empowered to rigorously evaluate and communicate results, in an integrated, collaborative, use- and solution-oriented manner, leading to more effective UNICEF policies and programs.

The Evaluation Learning Programme includes a blended evaluation training programme, with the first few modules delivered and facilitated online, and the last modules delivered through face-to-face training. The Programme is planned to be delivered in English, Spanish and French. This RFP is related to the online, facilitated delivery.

The online facilitated course content has been fully developed in English and has been built in a Moodle Platform. It includes a range of different types of synchronous and asynchronous activities (i.e. webinars, videos, readings, animations, quizzes, interactions through the forum, individual and group exercises, reflective exercises etc...) to accommodate to different learning styles.

The online facilitated course is composed of 4 modules delivered over 6 to 8 weeks. The estimated study time is 4-6 hours per week, depending on participants' learning styles.

The purpose of this RFP is to identify suitably qualified instructors who can adapt relevant parts of the English prototype and deliver the online facilitated course in Spanish, as well as any other trainings on evaluation that the UNSSC might develop in the future. The selected instructors will participate in a Training of Trainers workshop held by the faculty in charge of the English online facilitated course to adapt and deliver the training in Spanish applying the same learning approach as the English faculty experts.

2. Expected deliverables

Instructors are expected to deliver the online part of the blended programme in Spanish, and their responsibilities may include, among others, the following:

- Record videos and animated presentations in Spanish;
- Translate and or quality review the translation of relevant training materials from English to Spanish;
- Identify relevant evaluation-related materials in Spanish; develop self-paced multimedia modules if relevant. Introduce challenges for participants to discuss and think while going through the content of the evaluation modules;
- Coordinate with the project managers to keep abreast of participants' online discussions and prepare summaries, inputs or replies;
- Run 2-hour webinars. Prepare the webinars based on queries from participants, and their discussions in the online forum;
- Guide participants in applying the online learning into the case exercise and their daily evaluation work.
- Contribute to the analysis of the results of the online learning program and provide advice and feedback to the project managers.

The instructors are expected to work in full coordination with the English faculty experts, UNSSC and UNICEF managers.

3. Requirements

Instructors should possess the following qualifications:

- Doctoral degree in evaluation or related field is required. Master's degree in evaluation and related areas with considerable teaching experience using case studies at a higher education or executive education setting can also be considered.
- At least 7 years of teaching experiences in evaluation topics in relevant institutions are required; Teaching Experience with cases is highly desirable.
- Familiarity with online teaching technology (e.g. videos, webinars etc.)
- Native fluency in Spanish is required. Bilingual English-Spanish is an asset.
- Fluency in English is required as the working language is English.

4. Location and supervision

Considering the nature of the work, the instructors can be based anywhere on the globe. The instructors will report to the UNSSC Evaluation Learning Specialist and will consult on a regular basis with the UNICEF Senior Evaluation Advisor. The working language is English. The selected applicant may also be required to interact with other members of UNSSC and UNICEF on issues related to specific deliverables of the assignment.
